Our rabbis note that the name “Elul,” the month right before Rosh Hashanah, is an acronym for the biblical phrase ani ledodi vedodi li, “I am my Beloved’s, and my Beloved is mine.” In other words, the intense love between God and the Jewish people comes to the surface during the month of Elul.

In Likkutei Torah, the first Chabad Rebbe describes the tightening of the bond between God and the Jewish people to the surface during the month of Elul. He explains:

“Before a king enters his city, its inhabitants go out to greet him and receive him in the field. At that time, anyone who so desires is granted permission to approach him and greet him. He receives them all pleasantly, and shows a smiling countenance to all...”

My teacher, Rabbi Ebn, leader of Hebrew College, points out a contrast between the month of Elul and the High Holidays which begin immediately following. During Elul, “the king is in the field.” God is revealed at a level which can be apprehended by people within the framework of mundane reality. On Yom Kippur the “king is in his palace.” God becomes revealed in all God’s glory and majesty. Why meet God in the field? Surely, Yom Kippur is the sacred moment we all have come to know. Why not just meet “the king in his palace?”

Rabbi Leader explains that God descends to this level not only in order to make God accessible to humans. Rather, it is because a field has intrinsic value. A field is a place where grain grows. Growing grain and converting it into the food which sustains us requires a great deal of effort. And this effort symbolizes the full scope of our activities within our mundane sphere. Indeed, most of our life is spent dealing with our material needs and earning the means by which to provide for them. Why, we might wonder, did God design a world in which humanity is forced to devote far more time to material, rather than spiritual, activities?

Because, Rabbi Leader teaches, this reflects the purpose of creation. God created the world so that God could have a dwelling place in the physical universe. “In accordance with this desire, our service of God has to center on the ordinary details of existence for the purpose of infusing them with Godliness, and not on the purely spiritual as it exists on an abstract plane.”

Now, we can appreciate the significance of our parable to the month of Elul. The king’s presence in the field represents the ultimate purpose of creation. Our efforts, Rabbi Leader teaches, must be directed towards bringing Godliness into our material world. As we enter a new year, let us all contemplate how we might bring Godliness into the ordinary moments and spaces of our lives. Shanah Tovah!
LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

Shanah Tovah! I hope this year brings you, your family and our FJCC community good health and much happiness.

We are lucky to have each other to share Shabbat, holidays, simchas, the evolution of our children and enriching cultural programming. And of course, we are supported by each other in troubling times. May we have much to enjoy and celebrate this year.

Speaking of Celebrations...

Moskovitz-Fellin CENTER SERIES - I am thrilled to announce that Bruce Moskovitz and John Fellin have graciously offered to sponsor and make permanent the CENTER SERIES. Their large and generous donation over the course of five years is a named sponsorship which will help us maintain our excellent cultural and educational programming and provide funding for unbudgeted and unexpected synagogue needs. Bruce and John have given generously to the FJCC in their time, attention and effort, from davening on the bimah to participation in our Adult Education classes, to chairing our Casino Night and helping to facilitate our Farmland Bike Ride fundraisers. They have supported the life of our shul and we are grateful for all the gifts they have bestowed on our FJCC Community. Many, many thanks and mazal tov to Bruce and John.

Musical Shabbatot

Many thanks to Alissa and Jim Fox and the Fox Family Foundation for their generous support of our Musical Shabbatot. We enjoyed the first in the series of three with a delicious dinner by Gali and the upbeat and fraylich singing lead by Rabbi Susan Falk. Alissa and Jim are committed to bringing us together to celebrate Shabbatot. We are incredibly grateful for their vision and engagement in the life of our synagogue. The next two Shabbatot with musical guests are on October 18 (which is also the New Members Shabbat) and on November 22. Fraylich Friday nights are happening!

Our Building

Roof

We have had frequent conversations with The Falcon Group, our engineering consultants, in reviewing new proposals and bids for our roofing repairs. We had hoped the work would have been completed before the High Holidays but there were unexpected setbacks in the process. With the new round of proposals, we’re feeling optimistic that work on the roof will begin soon.

Security

Many of us have attended the evacuation trainings, first-aid training and workshop on the use of tourniquets. These training sessions have prepared FJCC to help should needs arise. Many thanks to Karen Walsh, Deborah Kesselhaut and Nadine Milecofsky for bringing these trainings to us. Many thanks to the Raritan Police Department for providing us with Police Officers and a squad car during the High Holidays. Their presence was greatly appreciated. We have begun to work with the DHS grant awarded to us for enhanced security. Many thanks to the security team including Sharon Rednor, Jane Wasserman, Nathan Lefkow, Bruce Moskovitz, Josy Kestenbaum, Zel Gerstein, Alan Hylton, and Deborah Kesselhaut for the very detailed work involved in the use of this DHS grant funding.

Fundraising

Congratulations to the Sisterhood, especially Marlene Wolf and Gayle Niebart, on the reopening of the Gift Shop. The gift shop offers much lovely Judaica, wonderful gifts and an opportunity to order Liz Loew’s scrumptious cookies and rugelach. Please stroll through the Gift Shop and find treats for family, friends and for you! If you don’t see what you need, Marlene and Gayle will happily help you place an order. The FJCC benefits financially from the purchases at the Gift Shop. Again, many thanks to the Sisterhood and to Marlene and Gayle.

Continued...
Hebrew School is up and running! The Gan-Vav students, and the Bnai Mitzvah class met last month and Hebrew High 8-10 will start after the holidays. This year Hebrew High 11 & 12 will try something a little different. The students will meet with Rabbi Cohen, do a community service project and participate in a weekly online discussion. We are busy preparing for High Holiday Jr. Congregations and making Sukkot decorations. The Family Simchat Torah Service is on October 21st. We hope to see you there!

Karen Walsh
Hebrew School Director

Moskovitz-Fellin CENTER SERIES
With the new year we will have a new line-up of cultural and educational offerings for our FJCC community. Sally Fingerette will join us on October 26 for a night of fabulous music, singing and storytelling. This will be a chance for us to come together for fun and fundraising. Please bring friends and relatives! You can register for the Sally Fingerette performance at: bit.ly/2SLA50a. Our Comedy Night will give us a chance to laugh, eat and drink together, as the NYC-based Improv SportzComedy Troupe comes to the FJCC on November 16. Comedy Night will be fun and a helpful fundraiser. So, bring relatives, friends and neighbors. Here’s the link to register: conta.cc/2m9a9PN.

Sending all good wishes for a healthy, safe, happy New Year.

Giving Garden

End of Season Report

The FJCC Giving Garden finished our fifth successful year of providing fresh vegetables to the Flemington Food Pantry. As in past years, our Nursery School students grew from seed the carrots, beets, radishes, cucumbers, spinach and kale that ended up being eaten by those we don’t know and who don’t know us (Maimonides’ 2nd highest level of charity!!!!!!)

Thank you to the following waterers, weeders, harvesters, food deliverers and advisers who enabled our success: Sharon Brooks, John Fellin, Bruce Kamich, Susan Kamich, Maggie D’Aversa, Mike D’Aversa, Nomi Forman, Jack Forman Marsha Goldstein, Fred Kleiman, Liz Lowe, Jake Nemeth, Jonathan Nemeth, Nate Nemeth, Sharon Rednor, Dalia Schiller. To J&J Landscaping, Stop & Shop, and the Kamich dynamic duo for donations and repair work. And to John Fellin for removing the rabbits!! Keep in the loop for next season…
